I am suffering torture and sexual degradation at the hands of the Institute of Physics who are terrorizing me to change my sexual orientation to be more like women in Physics and inherit their complete sexual pathology and head works in order to be employed. Women in Physics have a sexual urge that requires the equality of all women, and if this is not obeyed, women in Physics will have less sexual contentment, and this will make them get out of Physics and move towards opportunities that afford greater sexual contentment. Therefore while Women in Physics is a group primarily sexual rather than scientific in function non-membership in that group, and lack of demonstrativeness of personal interest in those women and their group sexual issues means I become unpopular with those women who will whine their endless complaints about me to the men of The Institute of Physics and have me removed. If I can't be a proper member of that group, women in Physics will have to contend with a woman being present who fails the equality test of being equal to them, and become sexually uncomfortable and unfulfilled. Therefore all men in Physics need to torture me and in effect murder me for not being able to put up the kind of sexual performance that is natural to women in Physics. Women in Physics have a sex instinct which makes them feel man is master particularly during copulation and in related matters. Men want women's welfare, therefore they know that it is right to exterminate sexually torture brutalize me and remove me from The Institute of Physics and from every place where men are helping "women overcome barriers"

Preface

Sex Manual for Physicists, consisting of monochromatic text without images, was written to serve the mad scientist, with special interest in the mad physicist, with a sex manual to be used for their personal needs. I who consider myself to have genuinely mutated, do desire to provide sexually entertaining material describing the sexual antics and pathology of the teenage mutant ninja turtles a mythical animal species in a sex manual.

Saying that these concepts relate to a mythical animal makes sure that one cannot connect them to real-life people. This is my frantic attempt provide sexual entertainment without having to disrobe myself and mount the nearest table, completely naked.

Most of us do agree that Pornography is a very great business, most certainly when seen from a financial angle, but this book is just a humble attempt at making an enhanced sexual disclosure.

Introduction

I, Mohini Hersom, who consider myself to have genuinely mutated, have come to you as the unlicensed and unsolicited doctor of the mad scientist, especially the mad physicist, of the teenage mutant ninja turtles, of Star Wars Mutants such as "ferengis", have written "Sex Manual for Physicists" in a frantic and desperate attempt to heal the sick.

Sexual exhibitionism is another motive for writing "Sex Manual for Physicists" which consists of monochromatic text without images.

I, Mohini Hersom, shall in the remainder of this book, refer to myself as "Dr Ruth Mutated" abbreviated to "Mutated". Any humorous, horny and passionate heroes who shall read ever become readers of this book, shall be termed as "Sex Fiends". And finally, the mythical creatures whose copulation is discussed in this book, shall be termed as "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" abbreviated to "Turtles".

Chapter 1

Princess Michael Always Says Yes To A Man.

In 1983, I used to watch a BBC program whose title was something like "Alan Bastard, the biggest bastard", who was a British intelligence agent in the story. He has many naughty escapades during his missions abroad as a spy. In one episode that I watched, Alan found himself with a strange woman in a bedroom of an apartment in the USA, which was in a multi-story building.

At her request, Alan ties the woman to the bed and handcuffs her, preparing to carry out the second of her requests.

But he decides to go down in the elevator, and come back to her in a few minutes to do his job and then untie her.

Unfortunately, before the elevator reaches the ground floor, Alan B'stard commits a legal offence that makes him spend the rest of the night in jail, leaving the poor woman tied to the bed.

Alan is put in a circular cage for the night where he has the company of two other men, one of who introduces himself as Princess Michael.

Princess Michael starts to caress Alan and the second man as well.

So, I have made up a joke, which says "Princess Michael always YES to a MAN"

This joke can be truthfully made about anyone who predictably asks for something, because of an inner weakness which they have, just like Princess Michael cannot help caressing any man who steps into his cell.

Such a person, for very obvious reasons cannot be relied on for honesty, since their desires override their judgement. Such a person will always campaign and petition in favour of themselves, or what they would enjoy to see happen, with scruples and moral character being sacrificed with a unilateral goal to profit.

People with an inner weakness like Princess Michael, make motions to "promote" or "demote" somebody or something", with one-sided evidence like a solicitor who has only one goal from which honesty is excluded.

Note that “Mutated” is not against homosexuality, but only wishes that people whatever their orientation will exercise some discrimination and rational concerns when making sexual advances as well as when trying to “promote” or “demote” their fellow humans.

Chapter 2

The Nazi-Nurturer Theme

The Nazi-Nurturer scheme, or simply, the NN-scheme is a type of hierarchical relationship between two parties of unequal mental status.

The Nazi-Nurturer scheme is defined by a set of rules, and moral values for a relationship between a member of a species called NAZI and a member of a species called NURTURER. These species are (supposedly) subspecies of the human species.

Unless there should occur a rare case, the NURTURER is NEVER the NAZI'S WIFE, or remote family member. She may not even be a member of his race.

The NURTURER may be working under the NAZI, or is in the same establishment, or she may be just a passer-by on the street, or she may be just a hypothetical person, or comic cartoon character.

Chapter 3

Woman-axioms

§ Conferences by intellectuals to identify barriers, which keep women from doing Physics or other male, dominated professions and keeps them from reaching the top

§ Outcome of these conferences are presented in a nutshell, but they are neither the recommendations nor the opinions of the author.

§ References have been made to well-known documents on the topics commented upon here, but very intentionally, these references have not been provided so that the reader can decide for himself about such associations.

§ Additionally the discussion below is complicated by the fact that the standardized documents that have been used to construct this discussion have been worded in a form that is different from the one available in print, so that the reader would need some depth to his understanding in order to make the correct matches and associations

§ Providing references would clarify only a part of this discussion but that would increase its political incorrectness, and hence the author felt that it would be better to leave this as a secret to be unearthed by interested readers if any should ever present themselves.

(1)The most important axiom:

■A person with female body is somebody who should be encouraged, promoted, protected, and progressed.

Chapter 4

The Archaic Origins of “Equality Maintenance”

I was living in a very cold country a decade ago, and boarded with a Serbo-Croatian landlady called Mrs Slavica Polancec. I also had a neighbour who was boarding with her, an ElSalvadorean man named Alfonso Amaya.

The names may or may not have been changed but let me assure you that these individuals are not public figures and nobody will ever be able to link this tale to the people whom it describes.

Chapter 5

The Asiatic Origins of the Diversity Principle

The Asiatic origins of the diversity principle are suggested by a direct illustration of the diversity and dissonance of my blood relatives

If sexual orientation can be viewed as a more complex thing, than just asking if people are gay, or straight, I think I can tell you a tale of two women, who I knew from Adam, and whose sexual orientation and gender concepts closely match those characters, whether fictional or real, that are described by the handbook "Women in Physics"

Chapter 6

Special Effects in Sexography

In this chapter, we shall expand our understanding of how to define terms relevant to our present discussion and deepen our understanding of the sexual concepts that have gone into the making of this manual.

I believe that most people who have a taste for internet or printed pornography, especially the abnormal (deviant) kind, especially those who will watch the worst kind of sicko movie showing incest, but I doubt if you will become enchanted if I came out with quotes like “Oedipus Rex Killed His Father and Married His Mother Do that He Could Become King”.

That is the kind of thing that I have decided to call “left-brained pornography” which is to some extent prevalent in this book.

Chapter 7

Male Chauvinist Pigs (M.C.Ps) have been stamped out
and replaced by Diversity
Chauvinist Pigs
(D.C.Ps)

This is self-explanatory. Anti-racism is another form of racism. In whatever form hate comes, it is still hate, just as farts will always be farts and will never ever smell good. One's intentions are not always measurable by one's logos and slogans. Liars will be liars, even if they bury all the evidence that they are lying, and even if they kill off and de capacitate everybody who tries to criticize them, and truth has a smelly way of coming out unexpectedly. Maybe there is a God, and smelly things will not ever stop smelling.

THIS IS PURE TYRANNY

Mohini Hersom believes that she has been persecuted all her life for having more mentally in common with men than women. Modern society has done away with any personality conduct or IQ factors that a women should need to be called an equal to a man.

People constantly use mental health putdowns and this can neither be resolved nor have medics been able to diagnose anything. You do not need qualifications to tell lies and attack me in a mob. Because gender equality of women to men has become an unconditional privilege, people like herself who can't integrate into the woman community are baited and live in eternal loneliness with no access to goods women don't ask for.

Mohini Hersom wants to know if there are no women in the UK who have more mentally in common with men, or such unfortunates from Asian and other races cannot live here. She deplores the Institute of Physics coercive measures to make sure she speaks only to women expelling her for objecting. She is tortured on behalf of women and feels there may not be freedom of the press on matters unflattering to women.
